Q: What size flag should I install at my home?

A: Most residential flagpoles are between 20 feet and 30 feet depending on the height of the home and location of the pole. When the pole will be located near the home be sure the flag won't fly too far above the roof so that it isn't really seen as a part of the landscape. If you took a picture of your home from the driveway entrance, the complete pole and flag should be seen in the photograph.

When a pole is installed in it's own area such as a field or garden, any height goes. It will depend on how large of a statement you'd like to make. A 40 foot flagpole with a 10 x 15' U.S. flag, surrounded by colorful flowers makes a beautiful display!
